Rioting in Paris.

As a net result of yesterday's rioting in Paris, though the inventory was taken in but one church, that of St. Pierre du Gros Caillou, over 50 persons were seriously injured and a further considerable number slightly hurt. The latter included a number of police and firemen, who were almost blinded with cayenne pepper. Fifty arrests were made. The storming of the building was greatly protracted owing to the use by the "defenders" of red pepper. After repeated efforts the police and firemen only succeeded in entering the church by employing chairs as shields. The first two who got through the doors were knocked unconscious. Those who followed, although they were thoroughly exasperated, refrained from violent retaliation.

It is said that the clergy have done their best by advice to their congregations to remain calm, but without avail, the militant Catholics being firmly resolved to resist what they term the spoliation of the many Paris churches, containing many millions of francs' worth of jewelry, military medals and decorations, given by devotees as thank offerings. It is charged that the blame for the present conflicts attaches to the Minister of the Interior, because of his order that the inventory of the churches should be carried out before the regulations under the separation law are definitely drawn up. This leave the Catholics uncertain regarding the eventual fate of church property, and their doubts on this subject have brought about their resistance to the order and its results. The authorities are determined, however, that the law shall take its course, and the disorders be suppressed with the utmost vigor.

Twenty-two hundred inventories already have been made throughout France, many without incident, but Paris contains 69 Roman Catholic churches, of which but half have been visited by the officials. Proceedings will continue today, and in order to prevent a renewal of the disturbances the authorities have kept secret the hour at which the commissioners will visit the churches.

As the result of the vigorous measures to repress disturbances and the threatened counter-demonstration by socialists against the militant Catholics who gathered at the Church of St Pierce, the Rue St. Dominque, on which the church is situated, had the appearance of a street in a besieged city. All the shops in the neighborhood of the edifice were closed, cordons of armed municipal guards on foot were stationed at intervals along the street and a squadron of mounted municipal guards with drawn swords patrolled the thoroughfare and kept the crowds moving.

When the prefect of police, M. Lepine, arrived, the bells were tolled and the people inside the church, numbering about 3,000 persons, began singing Psalms, while outside the rowdy element shouted revolutionary songs. M. Lepine thrice summoned the congregation to open the inside gates, which the people refused to do, and then firemen were ordered to force an entrance, using their hatchets.

As they mounted ladders in order to break in the windows of the Chapel of the Virgin, an annex of the church, revolver shots rang out and the firemen retired. Later a fire engine arrived on the scene, and amidst a shower of missiles the firemen scrambled up to the roof with a hose, the water was turned on, and the interior of the building was soon flooded.

In the meantime the doors had been battered down, but the municipal guards found barricades inside and met with fierce resistance. Numbers of the guards and the congregation were severely hurt but the authorities eventually obtained the mastery and the demonstrators were captured one by one and led to the nearest station-house.

In the meanwhile the unruly crowds outside had broken through the cordons of the municipal guards and attempted to reach the church and engage in the fight with its defenders, but the mounted guards dashed through them in time.

Disturbances in the vicinity of the church continued. The crowds increased around the edifice to the number of about 18,000 people. All the officers who entered the church emerged covered with blood, and their clothes torn and soaked to the skin.

Startling But True.

People the world over were horrified on learning of the burning of a Chicago theater in which nearly six hundred people lost their lives, yet more than five times this number or over 3,000 people died from pneumonia in Chicago during the same year, with scarcely a passing notice. Every one of these cases of pneumonia resulted from a cold and could have been prevented by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. A great many who had every reason to fear pneumonia have warded it off by the prompt use of this remedy. The following is an instance of this sort: "Too much cannot be said in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and especially for colds and influenza. I know that it cured my daughter, Laura, of a severe cold, and I believe saved her life when she was threatened with pneumonia," W. D. WILCOX, Logan, New York. Sold by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS

AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SATURDAY EVENING. FEB. 3, 1906

AT THE last session of the Virginia Legislature the delegate from this city introduced a bill which had for its object an equitable assessment of the rolling stock of railroads operating in this State. Owing to the late date of its presentation, Mr. Caton was unable to procure any action on the bill. However, on the first day of the present session he presented a bill on the same lines, and we believe it has been reported from the committee on roads and internal navigation, and takes its place on the House calendar. In the preamble to the bill. attention is called to the fact that:

The rolling stock of railroad corporations is not, in fact, located or kept at any special or particular point or place upon their respective lines, but receives the protection of all the local governments within this State through which the respective lines of railroad of such corporations are located and operated, and are made valuable by reason of the traffic supplied from all the localities which such railroads serve with transportation facilities; and further that it is manifestly unjust and unequitable that the entire tax on such rolling stock for local purposes should be enjoyed by one locality in the State, to the exclusion of others, for as the law now stands such rolling stock is located for the purposes of local taxation, at the principal offices of such corporations. It is also pointed out that in the case of the Atlantic and Danville Railroad Company versus Lyons, decided on the eleventh day of December, nineteen hundred and two, the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia indicates that it would be more equitable, looking to the interest of the various counties through which the road passes, that the revenue deprived from the local taxes on the rolling stock should be distributed among such counties, but that this is impossible in the absence of legislative enactment upon the subject, and in order to correct this injustice and inequity, Mr. Caton presents his bill which provides that the rolling stock taxable in this State of the various railroad corporations doing business in Virginia, shall not be assessed for the purposes of local taxation by the counties, cities, towns and school districts at the principal offices of the respective corporations, but that for the purpose of local taxation by the counties, cities, towns and school districts in this State, the aggregate value of the rolling stock in this State of such railroad corporations (whether such railroad be operated by steam or motive power), as ascertained and assessed for the purpose of State taxtion, shall be divided and distributed among the several counties, cities, towns and school districts in this State in or through which any part of any such railroad is located or passes, to be taxed by them for local purposes, in the ratio and proportion that the total value of the right of way, roadway, and track, switches, sidetracks, terminals, tunnels, viaducts, depots, depot buildings, stations, station houses, round houses, machine and work shops of every description, real estate, improvements, fixtures, machinery, tools and tangible personal property (except the rolling stock), located in any such county, city, town or school district, as ascertained and assessed for purposes of State taxation, bears to the aggregate value of the rolling stock in this State of any such railroad corporation, as ascertained and assessed as aforesaid for the purposes of State taxation.

Foreign corporations or railroads are exempted from the provisions of the bill. Some years ago a portion of the rolling stock of the Southern Railway was assessed in Alexandria at about $250,000. The Corporation Commission placed it all in Richmond—some $1,800,000 or $1,900,000. Last year the Commission designated Alexandria as the principal office of the Washington-Southern Railway and assessed its rolling stock at $89,000 in this city. It is presumed that the passage of the bill will benefit Alexandria. Certainly a visit to the roundhouse, car shops, machine shops and the dozen or more tracks upon which engines are shifting cars, would convince the Corporation Commission that all of the rolling stock of the Southern Railway ought not to be assessed in Richmond, but that Alexandria, which is now paying a debt which was created for the construction of the old Orange and Alexandria, the Manassas and the Virginia Midland railroads, all of which were long since absorbed by the Southern, should have its share of the assessment.

AS HERETOFORE stated the House committee on the District of Columbia has decided that in the matter of wife beating in the District the punishment should be made to fit the crime and that wife beaters, on being convicted, should be subjected to punishment at the whipping post. President Roosevelt, in a message to the last Congress, recommended such a law for the District. Similar bills should be passed by the Legislatures of all the States in the union and put into effect immediately.

STRONG opposition has developed towards the bill before the Maryland legislature providing that contractors on municipal work shall employ only registered voters of the city or State. Sentiment in some quarters amounts to indignation, and combined efforts will be utilized to kill the measure, as it is inimical to the interests of Baltimore and other cities in the State. Such demagogic measures should find no place on the statute books of any State in the union.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

The caucus of democratic Senators called for the purpose of considering the policy to be pursued by the party in accordance with the Santo Domingo treaty, which question was precipitated by the speech of Senator Patterson (Colo.), in which he supported the policy of the administration, met this morning with twenty-four Senators in attendance. Senator Patterson was himself present. A number of those present expressed themselves to the effect that the foreign policies of the Roosevelt administration were assuming a position of so much importance in national affairs, that they must necessarily become the subject of partisan discussion. Senator Patterson opposed this idea and contended that inasmuch as the interests of the whole country were involved in any treaty or convention with a foreign nation, every Senator should be left free to follow the dictates of his own conscience, when it came to the question of consenting to the ratification of that treaty. Senator Clarke (Ark.) made a speech in which he agreed with Senator Patterson that treaties ought not to be made the subject of partisan action and announced his intention to support the pending convention with Santo Domingo. Senator Teller, although intending to vote against the treaty, spoke against the advisability of trying to bind democrats to any particular line of action on such things. The general opinion is that the caucus will not do anything and will adjourn subject to the call of the chairman.

Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, who was taken down with an attack of appendicitis on Wednesday, is reported to be slightly improved this morning. He is, however, still in a critical condition At a consultation of physicians last night, it was decided, in view of the presence of other complications, that an operation would be unadvisable. This morning it is said that the Senator has rather more than an even chance of recovery.

The "act of God" clause in freight and express contracts is not worth the paper it is written on unless the carriers use all due diligence to save the goods damaged by flood or wind. This in brief is the decision handed down by Comptroller Tracewell of the Treasury this morning in reply to a request for light made by the Secretary of War.

Although the passage of the railroad rate bill in the House next week is a foregone conclusion, the closing days of the debate will furnish moments of interest. A number of speeches are yet to be delivered, and Congressman Hepburn, of Iowa, author of the measure now under consideration, will close the debate for the republicans. He will endeavor to bring the general debate to a close Saturday afternoon and the discussion will then continue on the presentation of amendments under the five minute rule. It is the intention of the managers of the bill, on both sides, to defeat every amendment offered. The remaining days of the week will be devoted to legislation on appropriation bills.

Senate leaders expect to bring the ship subsidly bill to a vote next week. There is little doubt that when this happens the bill will be passed by a fair majority. This does not, however, mean that it will become a law, for the understanding is that it will fail in the House. During its consideration in the Senate the bill has been materially amended in order to meet objections raised. As soon as the subsidy bill has been disposed of in the Senate, the statehood bill will be taken up and end the regular order of business every afternoon.

In executive session, the treaty with Cuba confirming that republic's title to the Isle of Pines, will be discussed. The hearings in the case of Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, on the question whether, as a high official of the Mormon Church, he can retain his seat in the Senate because of the alleged conflict between his oath to the church and his oath to the nation, will be continued by the committee on priviledges and elections beginning next Tuesday. Another interesting hearing will be that before the Senate committee investigating Panama canal affairs.

Secretary of War Taft will appear before the Senate committee on the Philippines on Monday in advocacy of the pending Philippine tariff bill. The foreign relations committee will continue its consideration of the Santo Domingo treaty next Wednesday and may perhaps, vote to report it to the Senate. On Friday the Senate committee on interstate commerce will begin daily sessions on the various railroad rate bills. Under the agreement reached yesterday the committee will take its final vote and report a bill to the Senate on February 16th.

Southern members of Congress, among them being Humphreys, of Mississippi; Bowie, of Alabama, and Clark, of Florida, were heard by a sub-committee of the House committee on ways and means, today, in support of various measures introduced to prohibit the issuing of government liquor licenses in prohibition districts, and to require the internal revenue officers of the government to testify in prosecutions under State liquor laws.

Announcement was made at the War Department today that Brigadier-General Frederick Dent Grant, now in command of the Department of the East, with headquarters at New York, would be made a major general on the retirement February 6th of Major General Samuel S. Sumner.

Lives and Property Endangered.

New York, Feb. 3.—Lives and property along the Harlem river were endangered this morning when the barge Hudson, loaded with about 600 pounds of dynamite, many boxes of detonating caps and other explosives, caught fire at the Central bridge and floated down the river as far as 155th street. Explosion after explosion of caps occurred, but fortunately the barge was beached before the flames reached the dynamite. The barge was owned by the federal government and has been engaged in the work of deepening the Harlem river.

About two tons of powder in the grinding mill at the Hadley yard of the Dupont Powder Company at Wilmington, Del., exploded with terrific force yesterday. Samuel Buchanan, aged forty-two years, the only workman in the mill at the time, was blown to pieces. The roof of the grinding mill, which rested on the walls without fastenings, as is the rule in all powder buildings, in order to give vent to the explosive forces, was blown across Brandywine creek, a distance of 300 yards. Houses in the city were severely shaken, and the force of the explosion was felt several miles from the mill.

It consisted of removing a section of the vertebrae at the neck to relieve the pressure on the spinal cord and inserting a drain. Powell was partially paralyzed and realized that his life depended on the operation.

Church Troubles in Paris.

Paris, Feb. 3.—While devoted Catholics this afternoon were keeping a guard as they surrounded the large churches of Madeleine, Saint Thomas Aquinas, and Saint Pierre to prevent the government authorities from taking the inventories of the church valuables, as required under the law providing for the separation of church and state, the officials quietly visited a number of the smaller churches in other sections of the city. The resistance at such places was unorganized, and there was not the same violence which has marked the efforts to take the inventory of the larger churches.

The jar contained over $800 in old coins, some of which date back 170 years. The girl carried the jar home to her father, who later turned it over to E. Goodridge, on whose farm she was when she found the jar. Mr. Goodridge went to the spot where the jar was found and, with a hoe, found the stump of a pine tree some three feet in diameter buried several feet in the earth. It is supposed that a captain of some vessels hid the money in the hollow of this stump many years ago.

HOUSE.

The Rew crab bill passed the House by a vote of 59 to 8.

A bill was offered which required patent-medicine manufacturers to place the formula of their preparations on the bottle, with a certificate that they contain no poison or other deleterious matter. The bill is said to be aimed more particularly at the various tonics and blood medicine manufactures in this State.

As stated in the Gazette Mr. Caton's bill, calling for a $400,000 appropriation for the primary schools, was favorably reported by the finance committee of the House. The present annual appropriation, which is $200,000, will be, therefore, doubled if the bill becomes a law. A special committee, which had the bill under consideration, recommended the measure to the full committee.

A monument to be raised to the memory of Matthew Fontaine Maury, "the pathfinder of the seas and the creator of a new science," is the object of a bill introduced by Mr. Gleen. An appropriation of $10,000 is asked.

By J. R. Caton: To amend and reenact section 2 of an act in relation to the issuance of charters by the State Commission.

By Mr. Caton: To amend the act providing for the collection of taxes in arrear, and appearing in Pollard's code, section 492.

Consideration of the Fitzhugh Lee monument measure was begun in the finance committee of the House yesterday. A delegation of women from the monument association, headed by Mrs Norman V. Randolph, and accompanied by the association's attorney, former Senator Henry A. Atkinson, appeared before the committee to urge a favorable report on the measure. An appropriation of $20,000 is asked, to which the association proposes to add $10,000, the latter amount to be raised by private subscription. The $10,000 appropriated for J. E. B. Stuart monument fund, which was forfeited by failure to select a site in the Capitol Square, is suggested as available for the purpose. The committee went into executive session after hearing the delegation.

Business men are urging the defeat of Mr. Ould's bill to prevent all loading, unloading and running of trains on Sunday. A committee of the Board of Trade from Lynchburg was in Richmond yesterday to oppose the bill. The presidents of the largest railroads entering Virginia were in the city to present the railroad interests to the committee. They were Samuel Spencer, of the Southern; L. E. Johnson, of the Norfolk and Western; T. M. Emerson, of the Coast Line, and George W. Stevens, of the Chesapeake and Ohio. Seventeen bills affecting railroad operation have been introduced at this session, and, fearing that hostile legislation which might materially damage their business might be enacted, the presidents appeared before the committee to present conditions as they exist.

Countess Anna Castellane Wants Separation.

Paris, Feb. 3.—Countess Anna Gould de Castellane, the American wife of Count Boni de Castellane, has instituted legal proceedings for a separation The Countess remains at their residence in the Avenue Bois Boulogne in temporary charge of the children by permission of the Count. Count Boni has returned to his home in the country.

New York, Feb. 3.—The engagement of Miss Anna Gould and Count Boni de Catsellane was announced on February 6, 1895, and caused an international sensation. Miss Gould was then nineteen years old. Her previous engagement to William H. Harriman, of this city, had been broken. The wedding of Miss Gould to the French Count was set for March 4, 1895, and when only a few days off, the Marquise de Castellane, the mother of the Count, commanded her son not to marry unless $2,000,000 was settled on her and every suitable arrangement made for the support of the young couple. For a time it looked as if the wedding would be called off, but the settlement was finally made. The Marquise is said to have received $2,000,000, and the Gould estate settled $17,000,000 on the young couple, the fortune, however, to revert to the Countess in the event of a separation or divorce. The wedding was a notable event in New York, and columns regarding it were printed throughout the country. The count and countess had scarcely been domiciled in their Paris home when the husband began to throw money away with open hand. In less than three years he frittered away $3,000,000 in cash, and had piled up a debt of $4,000,000, besides having spent the annual income of $6,000 of the dowry. Creditors brought suits innumerable in the attempt to make collections and seizures were made. In order to straighten out the tangled financial affairs of the Castellanes, George Gould was appointed a trustee of the estate. He arranged to pay the creditors at the rate of four per cent. per annum on the annual income of $17,000,000. This cut the income of the Castellanes to $200,000 on which they have been forced to live since. The Castellanes have had frequent family quarrels, but there have always been reconciliations. Count de Castellane went into politics. He had strong royalist tendencies which brought him in frequent conflict with the republican government. He was elected to the Chamber of Deputies, but was thrown out of that body, it having been shown that he purchased his election. The trouble between the count and countess which has been brewing for several years, came to a head this week, and as a result there has been an irremediable breach which is about to be followed by a legal separation. The countess learned that Count Boni was paying attention to a noted society woman, who is married. The countess accused Boni of paying such attentions and created a violent scene. She declared that she had often forgiven the count for misdeeds. but that this time she would demand a legal separation immediately unless he broke with the woman. The count at first tried to persuade his wife that she was simply absurdly jealous, but failed in this. Then seeing that Countess Anna was in deadly earnest, rather than imperil his claim to the Gould millions, he consented to renounce his acquaintance with the charmer. The society woman in whose smiles Count Boni had basked became furious at the slight placed upon her in being thrown over on account of Countess Anna's jealousy. She laid a trap for Boni and asked the count to call to which request he acceded. The countess learned of this visit paid by her husband to the woman, and there was a still more violent scene as the result of the broken promise than that in which the countess first accused her husband. The countess at once put in effect her threat of applying for a separation. She left her husband and their home and went to the Hotel Bristol, where she took apartments for the purpose of establishing her legal residence there. Countess De Castellane's conduct throughout the entire affair is stated to have been above reproach.

Political Crisis in England.

London, Feb. 3.—The crisis over the future leadership of the conservative party has reached its final stage. It is understood that at the conference last night, at a dinner between Premier Balfour and Joseph Chamberlain, leader of the protectionist wing of the party, it was impossible to reach a whole-hearted agreement as to future policy. Mr. Balfour stuck by his original programme, maintaining that he still favors a retaliatory tariff, but would not accept protection. The friends of both statesmen hope to be able to induce Mr. Chamberlain to accept Mr. Balfour's declaration but there is a growing belief that they will not be successful. If not, a split in the party is inevitable and it will lead to the angry breaking up of the conservative party into two hostile groups. The peacemakers are making the suggestion that the party can be held together if both Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Balfour will retire from leadership in the contest in favor of some dark horse. It is believed Mr. Chamberlain will be willing to agree to this plan on condition that the leader to be selected shall be a protectionist, but not otherwise. This would make Mr. Chamberlain the real head of the party and is consequently objected to by the anti-protectionist wing of the party. There is a rumor abroad to the effect that Mr. Balfour may solve the problem now before the party by accepting a peerage and going into the House of Lords.

The Impending Strike.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 3.—About half a dozen Illinois and Indiana operators who have not left the city since the adjournment of the interstate operators and miners' conference, are the authority for the statement that there is not going to be an immediate rise in the price of coal. Most mines have an abundant supply of coal on hand, they say.

The operators and miners before leaving here were free with predictions that there would be a settlement before April 1, both sides now realize the full force of the stand taken yesterday. Many operators and miners believe President Roosevelt will not let such a tremendous industry paralyzing strike occur.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Feb. 3.—The anthracite mine workers who are on the verge of making important demands from the operators, are disturbed by the reports from Indianapolis that a strike of the bituminous miners is probable

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 3.—Illinois miners and operators are scarcely awake to the possibilities of a strike April 1, and they have not yet taken stock That suspension has been imminent has not been considered probable. The market is not stocked with Illinois coal. Mining this year has been limited to filling the actual demands which, because of the mild weather, have been very light.

Massillon, O., Feb. 3.—The possibility of a widespread miners' strike finds the big Ohio bituminous district unprepared for the struggle. The miners have not worked more than half time for the past two years, and the unions fund now contains but little, it is said. If a strike is ordered by the national organization the miners would be forced to receive outside aid to some extent.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 3.—The wage scale of the coal miners and operators of Alabama does not expire until July 1. It is not expected that the action of the Indianapolis conference will take effect in this district until that date.

Disastrous Fire.

A special train has just left there with the entire department. There is a strong wind. The loss will be heavy. Several small buildings have already been burned.

The Winchester fire department aided in getting the fire under control. The Oldham store was entirely destroyed, entailing a loss of $80,000. The State Bank and Trust Company, and the Richmond National building were damaged to the extent of many thousands of dollars.

Sultan to be Assassinated ?

Constantinople, Feb. 3.—The Sultan today received a telegram from the leaders of the Young Turk party in Paris, reading as follows: "We have arranged all. You will soon be assassinated by one of your supposedly devoted servants." The telegram caused the greatest excitement at the Yildiz Kiosk. The Sultan summoned a conference of the highest police officials and ordered a strict investigation to be made of the doings of all the palace functionaries.

Deaths.

Mr. James Butler, formerly of this city, but during the past third of a century a resident of Washington, died in that city at an early hour this morning. The deceased was about 60 years old. At the outbreak of the civil war he left Alexandria with Kemper's Battery and served throughout the four year's conflict. He returned to his native home in 1865 and was elected a night watchman, a position he filled until the organization of the police force in 1870. He subsequently went to Washington where he engaged in the drug business with the late James H. Clarridge. Upon the death of the latter the deceased continued the business at Indiana avenue and Third street. He had many friends and acquaintances in Alexandria.

James A. Wineberger, a veteran member of the Oldest Inhabitants' Association of the District of Columbia, died Thursday in Washington. He was 85 years old. Mr. Wineberger was born in Washington, and for many years conducted the Ebbitt House book store, a well-known establishment.

Rufus H. Darby, a leading employing printer of Washington, was found dead yesterday at his country home, near Falls Church. For many years he was prominent in Masonic circles and was also identified with the Royal Arch Chapter, the Knights Templar and the Mystic Shrine. He was 54 years of age.

Mary Branch, colored, aged 55 years, died at her home, 1219 Queen street, yesterday.

Meeting for Men.

Dr. C. S. Blackwell will speak to men at the First Baptist Church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The subject, "Jordan is a Hard Road to Travel," need not mislead anyone. It is strictly a religious subject, and well calculated to make men think, and is not an account of travels. However, though only men are expected to be present, not a sentence will be uttered which will be objectionable to the wife or daughter of any one who may attend. Good music will be a feature of the occasion. The meeting last night was exceedingly interesting. The sudden cold spell affected the attendance somewhat, but the house was well filled. There were a number of professions of faith, and eight candidates received for baptism. There will be four services at the First Baptist Church tomorrow, as follows: At the Sunday school, Dr. Blackwell will talk to the children and will preach at 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m, and to the men in the afternoon. The Wilmington, N. C., Messenger in speaking of Dr. Blackwell says:

"Dr. Blackwell is a man of fine personality, is learned and finished in his method, is a magnetic and eloquent orator and makes a pleasing and lasting impression on his hearers."

Those who have attended the services now being held in this city have been equally impressed with Dr. Blackwell.

Contributory Negligence.

In the case of Fewell vs. Southern Railway Company, from the Coporation Court of Alexandria, Judge Barley, the decision yesterday in the Court of Appeals, as it was in the court below, was for the railway company. While engaged in trucking freight between the cars and the depot at Alexandria, Fewell, one of a crew of truckmen, was injured by the truck with which he was working striking a defective corner of one of the boards used as bridges between the car and platform, causing him to fall on the platform. Judge Harrison, writing the opinion of the court, admits to be true the theory of Fewell, that the defective board caused the accident, but says that the evidence shows, that it was the duty of Fewell and his fellow-servants to select the board and put it in position and that the defendant company kept a supply of good boards on hand easily accessible to the truckmen for whose duty they were intended and that there was a supply on hand on the morning of the accident. It is therefore held that the injury was due to the negligence of Fewell or his fellow servants in selecting for their use a defective board and that the railway company cannot be held responsible. Fewell was represented by Mr. J. M. Johnson and the railway company by Mr. C. C.

The Cold Wave.

Last night was the coldest of the season, the mercury in the thermometer at seven o'clock this morning standing at 13° Considerable ice formed, the flats in the river being covered. While the northwest wind of last night was not as high as that of the preceding night, it was nevertheless keen and drove people from the streets to more congenial quarters. The present cold wave, however, will not be of long duration, as indications from all sections give prospects of more moderate weather very soon. The wave extends over the eastern portion of the United States, the Lake region, and various portions of the West, with extremely low temperature in many places The cold wave came from the extreme northwest, and moved over the Mississippi and Ohio Valley, the Lake region, and over the Atlantic States generally. The mercury has fallen considerably as far south as Savannah, where the record was forty-two degrees, with probably freezing weather this morning.

Good Templars.

Rescue Lodge, No. 532, I. O. G. T., held an interesting meeting last night. Two new members were initiated, after which the lodge deputy, Joseph Glover, installed the following officers for the ensuing term: Chief Templar, A. Sullivan; Vice Templar, Miss Etta Lyles; Chaplain, Fred Ebhardt; Past Chief Templar, Ernest Mankin; Treasurer, Minnie Scrivener; Financial Secretary, Roger Sullivan; Secretary, T. F. Johnson; Assistant do , Annie Few; Marshall, Frank Glasgow; Deputy do., Sadie Sullivan; Guard, Louis Smith; Sentinel, H. G. Baker. The committee of Good of the Order, subsequently rendered the following programme: Piano duet, by Mrs. Charles Hantzmon and Miss Effie Germond; piano duet, by Miss Isabella Cox and Miss McDonald; musical selection, by L. D. Sullivan; piano solo, by Miss Nettie Steelman; musical selections, by Sullivan & Sullivan; recitation, G. Frank Glasgow.

Examinations Postponed.

The State Board of Examiners and Inspectors of Schools in session at Richmond February 2 decided to recommend to the State Board of Education that the date for teachers' examinations be postponed until May, 3, 4 and 5, and in order that this may be done, all first and second grade certificates which have expired or will expire this year be extended for one year without examination; provided, said certificate be endorsed by the division superintendent and the clerk of the district in which the applicant is teaching. The State Board of Education will meet at an early date and it seems certain will adopt these recommedations. Full particulars will be sent out in a circular from the State Board of Education as soon as practicable.

Attempt to Wreck a Train.

What appears to have been a deliberate effort to wreck one of the fast trains of the Southern Railway Thursday night, a mile north of Franklin Junction, resulted in a northbound freight being wrecked. Eight cars were smashed into splinters and the engine was turned upside down along the track. No one was seriously injured. But for the fact that the Washington and Jacksonville Express lost 20 minutes at Greensboro that train would gone into trap. The lock on the switch at Ward's siding was broken and the switch thrown wide open. Then the red signal, which was exposed by the turning of the switch, was twisted to show the white or clear-track signal.

Jury Failed to Agree.

After having been closeted in the jury room in Washington for more than 24 hours the jury in the case of William R Pruitt, charged with murder in the second degree, late yesterday afternoon reported that it was hopelessly divided and would be unable to reach a verdict The jury was accordingly dismissed, and the Court directed that the prisoner be released on his former bond. The failure of the jury to find a verdict will make it necessary to try the case again. Pruitt is charged with having caused the death of William H. Steele by shooting him in the abdomen while in a fight in the former's home in Twining City in June last.

The May Hillman Company.

The May Hillman Stock Company gave an excellent rendition of "Fanchon the Cricket" at the Opera House last night to a large audience. Miss Hillman played the part of Fanchon in her usually good style, while the character of Landry was excellently portrayed by Wm. H. Sullivan. The other characters were all well acted. "Amateur Night" was postponed until tonight, when a number of good acts will be presented. The attraction tonight will be "Hearts of the South," with new specialties and illustrated songs.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Rosso Franklin, arrested by Officer Young charged with being drunk on the streets, was dismissed.

Harry Sims, charged with several misdemeanors, forfeited $25 collateral by failing to appear.

Joseph Jones, colored, charged with petit larcency, was dismissed after having been punished by his mother.

Rechabites.

Perseverance Tent, No. 1098, of Rechabites, will hold an indoor carnival at the Odd Fellows' Hall on north Columbus street, commencing on the 14th instant to last ten nights. The committee will be very thankful for any and all donations that will be sent or given to them for this cause. The money they expect to raise from this indoor carnival will be used to help others in the city. The committee will call on all business men and others for aid in the cause.

Funeral.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Ellen Buttimore, whose death occurred Thursday afternoon, took place from St. Mary's Church this morning, and was attended by relatives and acquaintances of the deceased. The services were conducted by Rev. Father Bowden, and the pallbearers were Messrs. M. A. Ahern, Thomas Hoy, P. F. Gorman, John McKenna, George H. Harlow and R. M. Lathan.

The Coming Fishing Season.

Recent reports indicate a heavy run of shad in the Chesapeake Bay and tributaries in the next 60 days. It has already been reported that shad have passed in the Chesapeake and that large schools are working their way north off the Carolina coast.

Personal.

Mr. Henry Allen, driver of the Reliance steam fire engine, has tendered his resignation to the Board of Fire Wardens, to take effect March 1.

The appointment of Mr. K. Kemper as superintendent of schools for this city for a term of four years, has been confirmed by the State Senat . The appointment, however, of Mr. Baldwin, superintendent of schools of Alexandria county, has been held up and in all probability will not be confirmed.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the residence of Miss Missouri Zimmerman, last night, when she entertained a number of friends at a supper.

Miss Bertha Sanford, a Deaconness from Rust Hall, Washington, will deliver an address to the Sunday school scholars of Trinity M. E. Church tomorrow morning at 9:30 a. m., and also will speak at the regular service at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Lulu Markell, of Warrenton, is visiting Mrs. R. Lee Field.

Disorder in a Theatre.

Belfast, Feb. 3.—At a performance at the Palace theatre last evening, by Brensmeyer, the cowboy hypnotist, the audience believed that some of the hypnotics feats performed by him were fakes, and invaded the stage. A fight ensued between the stage hands and the audience in which many persons fell into the orchestra. The fittings were smashed and the seats were torn up. It required the efforts of fifty policemen to restore order A number of those who composed the audience were badly injured.

Truckers' Association to Protest.

Raleigh, N. C, Feb. 3.—The East Carolina Truckers' Association will at once send legal representatives to Richmond, Va., to work against the bill introduced in the Virginia Legislature designed to stop the operation of railroad trains on Sundays in that State. The immense amount of fruit and early vegetables shipped from this section to New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other northern points, especially the early strawberry crop, would suffer immensely if the proposed new law were enacted

New York Stock Market.

New York, Feb. 3.—The movement of prices from the opening and all through the first hour has been sharply downward and declines have been sustained in nearly all the stocks traded in, ranging from over 1 to 3 points.

Panics at Fires.

Fire starting from an undetermined cause on the sixth floor of the knit-goods factory of N. J. Rich & Co., in Cleveland, Ohio, late yesterday evening, destroyed that building with an estimated loss of $75,000, sent at least 200 girl employees in a semi-panic from the several lower floors, and before the fire was gotten under control it had communicated to and destroyed twenty-one dwellings adjoining the Rich factory. The fire was attended with many spectacular scenes. The Rich building was completely gutted, nothing remaining of it but fragments of the walls. The employees numbered 400, girls, men, and boys, the majority being girls. Many of the latter had already left for their homes. The fire spread so quickly that scores of the girls who were caught had to leave the factory without their street garments to face almost zero weather outside. Some of the girls were so panic-stricken that when they reached the outer doors of the factory they fainted. So far as learned no person was hurt.

Flames starting at the foot of the airshafts and spreading in a few minutes throughout the first floors of the adjoining four-story double tenements at 69 Marcy avenue, Williamsburg, New York, yesterday afternoon, trapped more than 100 people, mostly women and children, who were rescued only by the most intrepid daring and heroism on the part of police and firemen. Many of the children saved were measles victims, and some were taken from their beds gasping for air. The women and children, driven into a panic when they found their escape to the street blocked by the blaze on the first floors, stood huddled in the upper hall until the police and firemen dashed through the wall of fire to them, dragged them to the roofs, and thence through buildings nearby to the street in safety. The flames spread so quickly through the two tenements that the firemen got them under control only after the interiors of both buildings had been wrecked. The damage was estimated at $200,000. When the people were finally got to the roof they could reach the nearest building only by means of a ladder, raised by the firemen and stretched across the gap between the airshaft separating the two structures. Trembling women, with their children in arms, were helped over the precarious footing by firemen and police, 40 feet from the ground. One after the other was taken from one house to the other and then to the street, until all were rescued.

The End of The World of troubles that robbed E. H. Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Ia., of all usefulness, came when he began taking Electric Bitters. He writes: "Two years ago Kidney trouble caused me great suffering, which I would never have survived had I not taken Electric Bitters. They also cured me of General Debility." Sure cure for all Stomach, Liver and Kidney Complaints, Blood diseases, Headache, Dizziness and Weakness or bodily decline. Price 50c. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

The Planet Mars.

Garrett P. Serviss, the celebrated astronomer, spoke Thursday night in Baltimore on the planet Mars. He said that Mars will in July, 1907, be only about 40,000,000 miles from the earth, or more than 10,000 miles closer than today. Then this planet will attract attention not only from astronomers, but from the general public, so striking will it appear in the heavens. Mars will then rise in the skies early in the night and be visible until morning. It will incite wonder, not only because of its size, but because of the color of its light. We will then behold the planet glowing blood-red high overhead. Two years later—in September, 1909—Mars will be only 36,000,000 miles from us, and and then we will have the best opportunity we have ever had of studying the planet. There are times when the earth appears to the Martians—if there are Martians—much larger than Mars has ever appeared to the inhabitants of the earth, for our planet is just about twice as large as Mars. Mr. Serviss believes the planet is inhabited.

Do the right thing if you have Nasal Catarrh. Get Ely's Cream Balm at once. Don't touch the catarrh powders and snuffs, for they contain cocaine. Ely's Cream Balm releases the secretions that inflame the nasal passages and the throat, whereas common "remedies" made with mercury merely drive them out and leave you no better than you were. In a word, Ely's Cream Balm is a real cure, not a delusion. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

OFFICIAL.

ATTENTION IS CALLED to a portion of an ordinance in effect April 11, 1902, which reads as follows:

Section 2. Be it further ordained, that ashes and house waste as hereinbefore defined, and when unmixed with other matter, shall be removed from dwellings, stores, offices, hotels and churches at the expense of the City Council and under the direction of the Committee on Streets and the City Engineer; provided that owners or occupants of the premises shall put the ashes and house waste in tight, strong boxes, barrels or receptacles which can be handled by one man (the capacity of said boxes, barrels or receptacles not to exceed thirty (30) gallons each or the size of an ordinary flour barrel) and place the same in the most accessible place on the premises and not exceeding thirty (30) feet from the street or alley.

Attention is also called to a portion of an ordinance passed at the same time, which reads as follows:

Section 1. Be it ordained by the City Council of Alexandria, that it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to throw, deposit, scatter or leave, or cause to be thrown, deposited, scattered or left, any ashes, house waste, rubbish, litter, vegetable matter, garbage, paper or refuse of any kind, or any dead animal or putrescible matter of any sort, or to leave ash or house waste receptacles, boxes or barrel on any street, sidewalk, alley or parking in this city.

Section 2. Any person violating the provisions of this ordinance shall forfeit and pay a fine of not less than one or more than five dollars, which fine shall be collected as other fines are collected and paid into the City Treasury.

Persons who have complied with the terms of these ordinances are entitled to satisfactory services as to the removal of ashes, &c. Failure on the part of the ash collectors to make proper and satisfactory collections should be reported promptly to the City Engineer by telephone or mail. Undoubtedly some complaints are well founded, but some are caused by failure on the part of citizens to comply with the terms of the above ordinances to which their attention has possibly not been called.

It is the desire of the City Engineer and Committee on Streets to give the best possible service with the comparatively small sum appropriated for this purpose, and co operation rather than criticism will do much towards producing good results.

E. S. LEADBEATER,
Chairman Committee on Streets.
